Some Things You Know and Some You Don't Know About Our Towns, County & People

—Lot of fine Berkshire pigs for sale.
G. A. ELLIS.

—Mrs. Wylie Miller, of Newnan, Ga., is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. T. M. Bolding.

Postmaster Harris and two children, of Charleston, are on a visit to Congressman Legare and family.

—Mrs. Shannon Morrison, of Columbia, is spending a time with her daughter, Mrs. J. T. Ritchey, in Pickens.

—Miss Esther Grayley, of Pickens, R. 3, is on an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. Paul Ligon, of Elberton, Ga.

—Mrs. Christine Morrison and two children, of Columbia, are visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. T. Ritchey, in Pickens.

POSTS WANTED—Black locust, or cedar posts, measuring 3 inches of heart at the butt, 12 ft. long. W. W. VORHIT, R. 1, Easley, S. C.

—Prof. Lawrence Murphy will open a 10-day singing school at Concord church, commencing Monday, July 24. Everybody invited.

—Mr. John Christopher, bookkeeper for Lipscomb-Russell Co., Greenville, spent the week-end in Pickens with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Christopher.

—Mrs. W. H. Johnson, after a delightful visit to friends and relatives in Columbia and other parts of the state, has returned to her home in Pickens, much refreshed from her journey.

—Mr. Porter, of Pickens, R. 2, has returned from a trip to West Union, where he went on a visit to his son. He reports a fine time, and says crops are good all through the section he traveled over.

—There will be a picnic at Flat Rock, 3 miles south of Liberty, on the 29th inst., under the auspices of W. O. W. camp No. 383. Gov. Blease, Hons. J. J. McSwain, Ed. McCravy and others will address the crowd. Everybody cordially invited to come and bring baskets. Good music and refreshments.

—The sale put on by the Keowee Supply Co. has brought the people to town in droves, and they are purchasing heavily of the bargains this enterprising firm are offering their customers. The sale runs until July 31st, and many bargains are still waiting for you to pick up. Do not miss the opportunity.

—John Craig, of Easley, came near drowning Sunday night, in the ford of Duke's mill, near the town. He drove in, and it being dark, he could not see that the stream was up. His horse came near being drowned, but was finally gotten out. The buggy was badly damaged. It is said that the rain Sunday night in that section was the heaviest in many years.

—Raiding Deputies Merrick and Aiken, accompanied by Deputies Alexander, Campbell and Curton, and Detective LaBoon, made a raid in the north-eastern part of the county Monday, capturing three distilleries, two in operation, arresting some of the operators, others getting away, being very fleet of foot and knowing the lay of the ground. A lot of beer, mash and grain was destroyed. It seems that Collector Scruggs' instructions are being faithfully carried out. He says Pickens county voted to be prohibition, and he intends to see that she remains so.

—Table Rock Hotel opens today for the accommodation of guests, with H. M. Jones as manager.

—J. Ernest Christopher, of the Catechee cotton mill store, is spending his vacation with his parents in Pickens.

—People are about through their crops, and mountain parties are the order of the day, wagon loads of gay young folks passing daily for their outing.

—Mrs. W. M. Jones, of Marietta, R. 2, accompanied by her charming daughter, Miss Leila, were in Pickens, Saturday, and while down paid this office a most pleasant and appreciated call.

—Lost, on streets of Pickens, presumably near Baptist church, on Tuesday evening, 19th inst., a gold stick-pin, with initials "J. E. C." engraved thereon. Finder please return to this office and get reward.

—Mr. Lee Pe Huff, of West Union, was a visitor in the vicinity of Pickens last week, calling on his best girl. The trip, evidently, was fruitful of satisfactory results, and the question definitely settled, as we understand that he returned home in a happy frame of mind and a highly-satisfied smile adorning his classic features.

—Messrs. Jas. H. Hendricks, and Joseph H. Seaborn, two erstwhile farmers and good citizens of this county, who now reside in the foothills of Georgia, are on a visit to relatives in and around Pickens. They each went to Habersham county, Ga., the first of the year and settled near Turnersville, buying good farms through that hustling real estate agent, J. A. Peek, and are more than pleased with their possessions. We learn, through other sources, that these two young men, as well as Squire W. L. Jenkins, have fine farms and splendid crops, are doing well and do not want to sell their places at all.

—For Sale—Some valuable farming land near Pickens, lies well, in good neighborhood, close to church and school; close enough to town to send to Pickens Graded School, has six settlements with good houses, barns and outbuildings. Lies on Easley road and embraces 243 acres of well-developed and improved land. Tract No. 1 lies in mile of courthouse and contains 103 acres. Tract No. 2 lies further out on the Easley-Pickens road, and contains 143 acres of fine land. Will sell either tract, or both tracts, or as a whole, or will cut into lots to suit purchaser. For price and terms see W. T. STEWART, R. 1, Pickens, S. C.

—Judge J. B. Newbery has added another line to his multitudinous duties, that of performing the marriage ceremony for the waiting and anxious couples, as soon as they get the licenses, and before they get scared and back out of their bargain. On Monday morning he had two applications for licenses and then requests to tie the hymenial knot. The contracting parties were from the Easley cotton mill, and were John W. Tripp and Lillian V. Smith and J. T. Reives and Essie Bates. Those who were witnesses to these marriages say that the judge, though it was his first attempt at such, conducted himself as a veteran and tied them hard and fast in the matrimonial coils. This now makes it so much easier on the contracting parties, as they can get the license and be married all in a jiffy without the trouble of hunting up a parson.

A Beautiful Music Store.
One of the handsomest and most successful music houses of the state is that of John H. Williams, the well known piano merchant of Greenville, which has recently been opened in the Grand Opera House building. Mr. Williams formerly occupied this stand, but three years or more ago moved to his warehouse to engage in the wholesale piano and organ business. He decided recently to reenter the Victor Talking Machine business, and had his former stand in the Opera House remodeled into a magnificent plate glass display room at the entrance of the theatre where one will find every style of Victor Talking Machines and Victrolas and Player Pianos of every grade, church and parlor organs of different makes, electric pianos and automatic musical instruments of every kind.

The talking machine department is provided with two modern booths or rooms built with double walls of French plate glass and provided with a steady current of fresh air from without by an electric ventilator and by electric fans from within. Here in this refuge from the outside sweltering heat you are invited to tarry and enjoy your favorite song or selection from some famous band, rendered with wonderful effect upon a Victor. Mr. Williams has justly earned and has maintained the reputation of selling the finest instruments in the South, and conducts his business on the "one-price" plan to all, and guarantees that the price on any piano, organ or talking machine in his store to be as low as is sold in any other music house in the largest cities of the United States.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all of the readers of the Sentinel-Journal to call when in Greenville and inspect this beautiful up-to-date music house and hear all the latest made without any obligation on your part to buy.

The editor of the Sentinel-Journal made a visit there a few days ago and can assure his readers that a great treat is in store for all who give Mr. Williams a visit. Your coming is invited.

It is a sure cure for all these ailments, and is the only remedy that will cure them without any harm to the child.

KEOWEE PHARMACY

Pickens, S. C.

FREE! FREE!!

Soon the greatest free offer will be given to every boy and girl in Pickens County. What is this great offer? It is an opportunity to attend the public schools of our county. We like to see our store thronged with people buying merchandise, but what would please us better would be to see all the children of our county taking advantage of the free school terms. We all love the county in which we live and it does us good to see men and women filling high positions from our own county. A lot of the teachers will be young and inexperienced but by all means help them to teach the best school possible. Many schools have been torn up by parents listening to some complaint of their children. We are going to offer to every child in the county a present that will not miss a day during the summer public school term, all the child will have to do will be to get its teacher to make a statement showing it has been present every day.

Remember our slipper sale is still going on; many good values left. If the children need clothes or any thing to get them ready for school come to see us.

Bring on the chickens and eggs.

Yours truly,

CRAIG BROS CO.
